FEEDING BABY

A first-time father was taking a turn at feeding the baby some strained peas. Naturally, there were traces of the food everywhere, especially on the infant.

His wife comes in, looks at the infant, then at her husband staring into space, then says, "What in the world are you doing?"

He replied, "I'm waiting for the first coat to dry, so I can put on another."

FEEDING BABY... AGAIN

My husband is wonderful with our baby daughter, but often he turns to me for advice. Recently, I was in the shower when he poked his head in to ask, "What should I feed Lily for lunch?"

"That's up to you," I replied. "There's all kinds of food. Why don't you pretend I'm not at home?"

A few minutes later, my cell phone rang. I answered it to hear my husband asking, "Yeah, hi, Honey. Uh...what should I feed Lily for lunch?"

Both of these men know farming. But one of them works at the bank.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Here's the Scoop,

I was wondering if you could help me? You see this Mother's Day I was in a fight with my mom and never had a chance to wish her a Happy Mothers Day. Horrible I know, but I was hoping for a chance to make it up to her. You see she is a beautiful woman with a huge heart, and I do not tell her enough how much I love her. She is always looking out for me and no matter how much I disagree with her rules and her "words of wisdom", I know she's just looking out for what's best for me. So for her I wrote a poem, a little token of my appreciation to her. .

Mother You're Everything To Me

By: Mackenzie Deuschle

You're my rock, my sense of stability.
 You're my paper weight, when I want to fly away.
 You're my voice, when I can no longer speak.
 You're my imagination, when reality takes over.
 You're my feet, when I want to run away.
 You're my bandage, when I am hurt.
 You're my sunshine, on a rainy day.
 You're my smile, in a river full of tears.
 You're my laughter, when the moment breaks.
 You're my breath, when the air is still.
 You're my warmth and comfort, on a cold lonely night.
 You're my hunger, when life seems to eat away.

With everything I do, with every step I take, every choice I make,
 Your face is what I see, you mean the world to me.
 Mother you're my everything. . .
 I love you.
