An Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotsman were reading a newspaper article about which nationalities' brains were for sale for transplant purposes. An Irishman's or a Scotsman's brain could be bought for £500 but an Englishman's brain cost £10,000. "That proves," said The Englishman, "That Englishmen are much more clever than Irishmen or Scotsmen." "No, it doesn't," said the Irishman. "It just means that an Englishman's brain has never been used."

SIGNS THAT YOU'RE BEING STALKED BY A LEPRECHAUN

Generic-looking green van parked across the street with Notre Dame bumper sticker.

Every time you turn around the pitter-pattering stops and that green fire hydrant seems to have gotten a little closer.

You don't recall owning an anatomically correct lawn gnome.

When you come home from work, the potatoes are missing from the cupboard and your parrot is singing "Danny Boy."

Pink hearts, yellow moons, blue diamonds scratched on your car at knee-level.

Every day this week you've noticed the same buckle shoes dangling just above the floor in the stall next to you.

YOU CAN'T BELIEVE EVERYTHING YOU READ IN THE PAPERS

Dermot McCann opened the morning newspaper and was dumbfounded to read in the obituary column that he had died. He quickly phoned his best friend Reilly.

"Did ye see the paper?" asked Dermot. "They say I died."

"Yes, I saw it.," replied Reilly. "Where are ye callin' from?"

THREE WISHES

Three guys, one Irish, one English, and one Scottish, are out walking along the beach together one day. They come across a lantern and a Genie pops out of it.

"I will give you each one wish, that's three wishes in total," says the Genie.

The Scottish guy says, "I am a fisherman, my Dad's a fisherman, his Dad was a fisherman and my son will be one too. I want all the oceans full of fish for all eternity." So, with a blink of the Genie's eye FOOM! the oceans were teaming with fish.

The Englishman was amazed, so he said, "I want a wall around England, protecting her, so that no one will get in for all eternity."

Again, with a blink of the Genie's eye POOF! there was a huge wall around England.

The Irishman asks, "I'm very curious. Please tell me more about this wall."

The Genie explains, "Well, it's about 150 feet high, 50 feet thick, protecting England so that nothing can get in or out."

The Irishman says, "Fill it up with water."
